

CRASH CPEN REVIEW CLASS

Date of Class: Monday, May 7, 2012

Time of Class: 8am – 4pm

Location of Class: Scottish Rite Main Auditorium

Information: Emergency nurses who provide urgent and emergent nursing care to pediatric patients and their families will want to validate their skills and expertise by sitting for this examination. Earning the CPEN credential demonstrates extensive knowledge and experience related to pediatric emergency nursing care. As of early 2009, qualified nurses are now able to take the examination for this esteemed certification.

About the Instructor: Scott DeBoer, RN, MSN, CEN, CPEN, CCRN, CFRN, internationally recognized pediatric nurse expert, has developed a 1-day Crash CPEN Review Program to help prepare nurses for this new certification. Scott has been presenting to thousands of nurses around the world for over 15 years. In addition to his extensive training in emergency, critical care, and flight nursing, Scott was one of the original beta testers for the new CPEN exam. Having co-authored over 40 medical articles and 2 books for nurses, paramedics, and respiratory therapists, Scott has now created a 1-day crash course that is highly interactive and will review key content areas found on the CPEN examination. Scott has been called the “Jim Carey” of the nursing world and will use his humor and experiences to present a dynamic review program for nurses that want to be completely prepared for this new credentialing examination. Through the use of real-life case studies, videos, and game show style test review sessions, emergency nurses will come away better prepared to challenge and pass the CPEN exam.

This would also be an excellent review for any nurse interested in increasing his/her knowledge/comfort level in managing pediatric emergencies.
